

Privacy and Security Notice

You are entering an Official United States Government System, which may be used only for authorized purposes. The Government may monitor and audit usage of this system, and all persons are hereby notified that the use of this system constitutes consent to such monitoring and auditing. Unauthorized attempts to upload or change information on, or otherwise cause damage to this web site are strictly prohibited and are subject to prosecution under the Computer Fraud Abuse Act of 1986 and Title 18 U.S.C. §§ 1001 and 1030.

This web site is provided as a public service by the Department of the Treasury, Community Development Financial Institutions Fund (CDFI Fund) and is considered public information which may be distributed and copied. Use of appropriate byline/photo/image credits is requested. You should be aware that 31 U.S.C. § 333 prohibits (among other things) the misuse of names, terms, symbols, emblems, or stationery of the Department of the Treasury, as well as colorable imitations of these items.

If you visit our web site to browse, or to read or download information, we collect and store the following information about you:

- The name of the domain from which you access the Internet (for example, aol.com, if you are connecting from an America Online account);
- The date and time you access our site;
- The Internet address of the web site from which you linked directly to our site;
- The type of browser and operating system used to access our site; and
- The pages you visit on the web site.

This web site uses “cookies” only to maintain a connection with the user to insure the user receives a response. Examples include: submission of a comment to the webmaster and searching the web site. The cookie is immediately deleted upon leaving the site. The temporary cookie contains a system generated identification only – no information about the anonymous user is kept.

For site management, information is collected for statistical purposes. This Government computer system uses software programs to create summary statistics, which are used for such purposes as assessing the number of visitors to the different sections of our web site, what information is of most and least interest, determining technical design specifications, and identifying system performance or problem areas. No information subject to the Privacy Act, such as name and address, is collected or used for this analysis. Raw data logs are used for no other purposes and are scheduled for regular destruction in accordance with National Archives and Records Administration Guidance. We will not obtain personally identifying information about you when you visit our web site, unless you voluntarily choose to provide such information to us by e-mail, or other on-line form. Information collected in this manner is used solely for responding to requests for information or records. We will not give, sell or transfer personal information to third parties, unless required by law, such as the Freedom of Information Act.

Except for authorized law enforcement investigations, no other attempts are made to identify individual users or their usage habits.

If you are sending electronic mail to the CDFI Fund, we want to remind you that e-mail is not necessarily secure against interception. If your information is very sensitive, or includes personal or confidential information – such as your social security number—you may want to send it by postal mail to the CDFI Fund address found elsewhere in this web site.